

HOW TO USE THE MOON PHASE & SIGNS CHART

This form comes in handy when you want to do comparisons on which seeds and plants were sown using the Moon Phase & Sign Gardening system. Simply write down the date, the seed or plant, and which phase and sign you planted under.

By using this chart, you can also make any notes necessary - from weather conditions, germination dates, pests, diseases or anything else that will help you keep track of the plants progress. This gives you a better idea of what will grow best in your garden.

Once a new season begins, you can refer back to the chart to help you determine which plants and seeds did better for you, or which ones you want to reconsider.

Be sure to make several copies and keep them in your Gardening Notebook so you can have all the information you need at hand to help your garden grow better each season!
